Community Access Workshop

Hello everyone

March has been a good month at the CAW. We have had our regular mosaic classes (every Tuesday from 9am-3pm) with tutors David Broad and Kellie Stephens. Simon Mollgaard has been a regular visitor and has made a series of attractive paving stones with David's support.

Kellie completed a new piece of mosaic last week working almost entirely in glass and mirror. This can be a challenging medium and Kellie has created a finely detailed piece that will look great in her home.

We had another milestone this month as Jack Moskowitz did his first screen prints on T-shirts at the CAW. Jack has been working towards this project for some time and his dad, Eric, was able to bring Jack's screen-printing supplies to Thames in time for Jack's first printing session. Jack is looking forward to printing a small range of clothing for friends, family and for sale.

The screen-printing project also developed further with the creation of a mobile screen-washing station. Juergen, one of our star Trust handy people, has made this out of an old bath and some spare timber and we can now wash out screens in any weather. Thanks Juergen!

We have also had Chris Mules, a local artist, using the CAW regularly this month as she develops new sculptural work. I worked alongside her early in the month. My project was finalizing the process for producing waxed food wraps. It was good to have a range of activities happening at the same time in our workshop.

We have a final piece of equipment to complete for our screen-printing project which is a functional darkroom with a developing light. Once we have this in place (hopefully in the next couple of weeks) we will be able to offer other people in the Trust or community the opportunity to make new silk screens to put their designs out into the world.

We had big news last week. Matt Flude has decided it's time for him to move on to some new adventures.

He has given notice that he is going stop working at the Trust after 24 years of great work and support.

Matt is our longest serving employee (he started in 1995!!) and his incredible positive approach and welcoming manner will be sorely missed by everyone.

Matt has always been the person you quote or point out to new staff as someone who really shows what the Trust values mean in action. His positivity and 'can do' approach will be very hard to replicate. It's a pity we can't clone him!

He and his wife, Dolly, are planning on kicking back a bit and doing some travelling (and we definitely expect postcards). We wish them both well.

Photos during my holiday 11th to 21 January 2019 at Cape Palliser. I was hunting for butterflies - this is a picture of a Boulder Copper butterfly, the New Zealand's smallest butterfly photographed at Tongariro Natural Park. I caught several butterflies for my cabinet and for studying on subspecies. Clinton Care

Louise Seagar was very happy to receive the monthly award from the 'Life Styler Motivator Committee' for the work she did providing decorations for the Valentines Day disco. To nominate anyone for this, you need to complete the nomination form. You can find these at the cafe.

Clinton Care has kindly donated his large collection of sea shells. The box of shells will be at 726 Queen for people to look through and to choose one to take home.

Aaron Seagar has been working hard to achieve his personal goals. Each week he has been heading to the local pool to improve his fitness. Very impressive Aaron. Keep up the fabulous work
